MEET THE SPEAKER

Join us for an engaging and insightful webinar featuring Dr. Jeffrey Bernstein, a political science professor from Eastern Michigan University (EMU) and Director of EMU's Faculty Development Center. Dr. Bernstein will share practical tips for nailing your teaching demo for academic positions. He will also talk about how to present yourself as an educator throughout the process, starting with the application and also including other aspects of the interview besides the teaching demo.

Whether you're preparing for your first academic interview or looking to polish your skills, Dr. Bernstein will guide you through interactive and effective pedagogical and interview techniques to confidently showcase your teaching skills. Perfect for job seekers aiming to make a lasting impression in higher education
