

Child Policy Trainings

Build your policy capacity, whatever your career stage or time commitment.

SRCD U.S. Policy Fellowship

Webinars:
How to build relationships with policymakers

Online courses:
Child and Family Policy
101 and more coming soon!

Learn new policy skills at your own pace and in the format that works for you. Whether you have time for a 1-hour webinar, a more in-depth online course, or want to apply for our Fellowship program; Child Policy Trainings has something for everyone.

See why our first webinar series was rated 4.5 out of 5 stars from post-session reviews*. All of our trainings place relationship building with policymakers at their heart. Why? Because we know it works.

Browse Our Trainings

*(Average score from 37 survey respondents, rating on 1-5 scale)

Don't have time for a full course or webinar? Visit the Child Policy Toolkit for shorter resources, and ways to track policy areas across the country.

Policy at SRCD Meetings

Child Policy Trainings is also expanding to SRCD Meetings and Events. At the 2025 Biennial Meeting in Minneapolis, we will feature the first-ever suite of policy-focused sessions. With invited policymakers and esteemed scholars, as well as policy workshops and networking sessions, this conference is a must-attend for those looking to increase their policy knowledge.

ATTEND THE 2025 BIENNIAL

What Does it Cost?

Trainings range from free to small fees. SRCD Members get access to free and significantly reduced priced offers, while non-members will pay small fees for most content. Some content is free for everyone, like this webinar on how to build relationships with federal and state agencies.

Join SRCD Today

Navigate the Child Policy Hub:

1. Child Policy Connect
2. Child Policy Toolkit
3. Child Policy Briefs
4. Science Advocacy